Pat Mesiti : The $1 Million Reason to Change Your Mind before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised The $1 Million Reason to Change Your Mind:

It is full of anecdotes, examples and stories to support the theory that once you have a "millionaire mindset" you can achieve a lot. The author, Pat Mesiti, did not have an easy start to life but he learned early that he had to change his thinking to become successful. His motivation for success is to be able to help others, and he certainly has through youth programmes and other mentoring activities. I found myself making lots of notes as I read, because there was a wealth of good information and motivating statements throughout the book. For example

"contentment means containment"; "feed your strengths" "where your focus is today your future is tomorrow"; "your mistakes are an event; they are not a permanent condition". The book is worth reading if you are looking for encouragement and motivation to do better in your life. It will help you be more positive and outcome focused. 3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. First time self help readers only By bluemoon_butterfly This book has a few good points, but if you've read other self help books this one will disappoint. For the first time 'self help reader' it's a basic starting point, but if you've read other, it's irritating as in most instances it's vague and not very helpful. Kind of like saying to an overweight person "It's not healthy to be fat, you need to lose weight, go on a diet", and that's about it. Lack of depth or follow through with advice. It's more a book you borrow from the library to read, as some information may be useful, but not buy as your money may be better spent elsewhere.

And following a violent upbringing in a rough Sydney suburb, co-founding Australia's richest — and most controversial — Pentecostal church, and running charities Teen Challenge and Youth Alive, that is exactly what he's dedicated his life to doing. Pat believes we can all be rich, that it's just a matter of shifting one's mindset to that of a millionaire. He has spent the past ten years sharing his income acceleration theories to captive audiences across the globe, and helping to build some of Australia's largest people organisations. As one of the world's most celebrated motivational speakers, Pat has shared the platform with the 'big guns' of the industry, including Donald Trump, Denis Waitley, Robert Kiyosaki, Mark Victor-Hansen, Jim Rohn, Charlie Tremendous Jones, Captain Jerry Coffey, Alan Pease, Bob Proctor, Willie Jolley and Morris Goodman 'the miracle man'. His 'millionaire mindset' bootcamps sell out internationally, and his 'teaching resources' (self published books, CDs and DVDs) have sold over 2 million copies worldwide. Pat's appeal is his humour, humility and humanity. His stories are at once funny and poignant, his energy contagious and inspiring. His down to earth approach and the wisdom gained through the many challenges of his own life and those he has helped ensure that he will engage readers far and wide. Pat is currently the Australian real estate industry's key consultant on enhancing sales performance, and he recently toured the US to speak to massive crowds for Amway, Internet Services and ALFLAC. His international speaking commitments are many, so his access to global markets wide.
