I am So glad I saw her tweet on how her book was $2.99 on the Nook store, and for some reason, I just clicked through and bought it. Something about her just intrigues me. She has been extremely responsive on Twitter to all my tweets, and I just met her. As for the book, I read it on my Kindle and it was hard to put it down as another reviewer said. She was right there, it felt like, coaching me, talking to me, and being very bossy with tough love, I loved it. It gave me a taste of how I must sound to my own clients.... Carrie also has the proof behind her teaching - she has made her success and she is passionate - INCREDIBLY passionate - about sharing this with the rest of us. I am delighted to have read this book, I WILL implement the useful parts, I will pass it on to others, I will follow everything else that the Barefoot Executive puts out and I will be forever grateful that Carrie created this book because her work will change and inspire the work of so many others. If you are a brand new business owner and want to have an online presence or a total online business, she will give you lots of tips, and she really does a good job of simplifying the concepts WITHOUT dumbing them down. I loved that distinction. She is also funny, entertaining and just so likable. Thank you Carrie. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. LOVE Carrie! By Brittny LOVE Carrie!!! Heard her recently at a seminar and bought her book for myself, and then one for each of my team!!! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. From a corporate executive's perspective By Alex Theis Carrie Wilkerson knows what all great coaches know - that in order for you to take action, the idea, dream, goal, or thought must be yours. Instead of being an autobiography of Wilkerson's success, as many of these types of books are, she tells you the steps she took, how she established contacts, who and how she connected with those more successful than her, and the intangibles of creating your own business while in bare feet (or however you dress at home). She writes from an encouraging position and chooses what seems to be the perfect time to give tough love too. The book is packed full of ideas that the author repeatedly urges you to take and make your own. Wilkerson opens up the mind to believe you are an expert at many things and can get paid for that expertise. Whether you are a stay-at-home mom, a blue collar factory worker, an executive, or anything in between, this book will have you believing that new streams of income are not just possible, but you'd be foolish not to monetize who you are and what you know. Wilkerson challenges you to take action. Not tomorrow, today.

Carrie Wilkerson offers the opportunity to live life on your terms. Want to start your workday with e-mail and coffee on the back patio? Want the flexibility of joining your fourth grader on an all-day field trip? Are you ready to take that vacation you've been planning for years? Then you have a choice to make, and The Barefoot Executive will help jump-start your transition. You'll learn: Your "why." The most important question. Why do you want to work for yourself? What type of business best suits your experience and talents. How to stay focused on your goal and avoid distractions. Where to find the support that will accelerate your success. How to link your business to the right market. Whether it's a service, a product, or your insight or expertise, you already have the raw materials necessary to transform your life. Carrie will walk you through the process of building the business you need to achieve the life you want. Her guidance is practical. No philosophical silliness, no theoretical abstractions- just concrete action steps alongside insights from fellow entrepreneurs, interactive exercises, and links to Carrie's online video coaching segments. It's the next best thing to working one-on-one with her. The Barefoot Executive will have you energized by the possibilities and embracing the extraordinary life that is well within your reach. DISCOVER what you already have to offer, how to use it to your advantage, and where to find the people who are eager to buy it. The Barefoot Executive will pull you over the hurdle of uncertainty and get you moving, planning, doing. What Others Are Saying: "Carrie Wilkerson has done a great job with this book, and she's personally helped me make tons of money with my business. I highly recommend this book!" - Chris Brogan, president, Human Business Works, and publisher of chrisbrogan.com "There has never been a better time to turn your passions into income. But just having an idea doesn't mean you're ready to order business cards just yet. Carrie Wilkerson's The Barefoot Executive walks you through the process of developing your idea, finding your audience, and setting yourself up for a lifetime of success doing the work you love for the hardest boss you'll ever have... yourself!" - Dave Ramsey, host of The Dave Ramsey Show and best-selling author of The Total Money Makeover "One of the best ways to achieve success is to learn from someone who has already done it. If you are looking to build a viable, sustainable, and lucrative business from home- or anywhere else- Carrie Wilkerson is your example, and her new book will show you the way." - Tim Sanders, author of Today We Are Rich and former CSO at Yahoo! "A lot of books can fire up an entrepreneur. But a lot of those books leave readers high and dry when it comes to practical application. Enthusiasm isn't enough. You need a plan and the tools to build with. Carrie Wilkerson's guidance provides just that. Combine that with her enthusiasm, warmth, and core values, and you have someone very real to learn from. As my dad says, 'a great book needs to cover the Why and the How.' This is a great book. I know that when Carrie advises Ziglar, Inc. on marketing ideas, we get results." - Tom Ziglar, CEO and proud son of Zig Ziglar "If you're dreaming of building a business on your terms, then you'll absolutely love Carrie Wilkerson." - Tory Johnson, CEO, Women For Hire and New York Times best-selling author
